RELEASE THE PRISONERS

The President Requested to Protect His Countrymen.

A Strong Resolution Reported by the Foreign Relations Committee in the Mellon Case.

The following resolution was submitted to the Senate yesterday by Chairman Davis, of the Foreign Relations Committee: "That the President be empowered to take such measures as in his judgment may be necessary to obtain the release from the Spanish government of Ona Melton, Alfred O. Laborde, and William Gilder, and the restoration of the schooner Competitor to her owner, and to secure this he is authorized and requested to employ such means or exercise such power as may be necessary."

This action of the committee is largely in response to the resolution introduced last week by Senator Berry of Arkansas, who made a vigorous speech showing that the government should act with a firm hand to secure the release of Ona Melton, and that a demand should be made upon Spain to that end.

It is not unlikely that this report will be debated in the Senate, but what action will follow is problematic. There is, of course, a chance that, even if the Senate acts on this and similar resolutions having a tendency to display the hand of the Administration, what is done in the Senate will never be acted on in the House, and so the game of inaction will be complete.

As the history of the Competitor's capture is familiar to all readers of newspapers, the following extracts from the report of the committee on Foreign Relations, accompanying the resolution, will be interesting: "The capture of Spain, as a result of the capture of the Competitor, has been a matter of justice and such an actual infraction of justice upon the United States as to make it the duty of this Government to demand reparation therefor, irrespective of any act which these prisoners may have committed up to the date of their capture. Among the acts of reparation which ought to be demanded should be the release of these captives."

"They have been tried and sentenced to death by a summary naval court martial in a proceeding which has been annulled by the appellate courts of Madrid, upon the ground that such a court martial had no jurisdiction whatever over them. Ten months have elapsed since this death sentence was annulled, and they have not again been brought to trial. In the meantime they have been subjected to prolonged and unnecessary examinations, preparatory to their trial by another court martial which differs from the first only in the fact that it is less summary and more formal in its character than the first."

"The trial ended and the defendants were immediately sentenced to death. It is now fourteen months since they were arrested, during all of which time they have been held in the Calanias fortress as prisoners. Melton and Laborde are unquestionably citizens of the United States, and the Competitor was a United States vessel, but it was a sailing ship, and was not a merchant vessel, and was not an American vessel when taken, as was getting as its mate, and it is the opinion of your committee that he is entitled to be protected by this Government. He was serving under the flag, and is entitled to be protected by it. "In our opinion, these acts of delay and denial of justice and of the infliction of injustice, violate and make void any right which Spain had in the beginning of this transaction to proceed criminally against the Competitor. This Government should demand that they be set at liberty and that the Competitor be restored to her owner, as there is no evidence that the owner knew anything about the divergence of the vessel from its regular voyage to London City, Fla."

BOUGHT POLICE PROTECTION.

Bad Boy Daniel, However, Did Not Escape a Whipping.

The police in the second precinct station-house were startled by an apparition which suddenly confronted them about 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning. A colored boy, entirely naked, dashed into the room and shouted: "Save me! Oh, Lord, save me!" His dark hide was covered with perspiration and the lad appeared to be badly frightened.

"What is the matter, boy, and where did you come from?" asked a patrolman. "I've just come from home because my aunt tried to beat me to death."

The boy gave his name as Daniel Timney, thirteen years of age, and his residence as No. 445 P street, and told a harrowing tale of how the woman was going to skin him alive. A blanket was torn over the nude lad and he was placed in a cell.

BANKS' ASSAILANTS JAILED.

His Brother and Arthur Johnson
Captured by the Police.

Josephus, or "Cephus" Banks, colored, was the victim of a probably fatal assault at Hillsdale on Tuesday evening by Willis Banks, his brother, and Arthur Johnson. The men were captured yesterday by Officers Dyer and Marr, of the Anacostia station.

The three participants had been saving wood, and the distribution of the proceeds of their labor was the cause of the quarrel. Some time before the assault, Josephus had been drinking and was very angry. He was kicked about the head and body by Johnson. The crowd which collected around the scene allowed the affair to continue. Willis ran into his home nearby and returned with a large knife, which he was prevented from using by his sister. The officers, who had been notified, arrived at this stage, but the two assailants succeeded in eluding the pursuers.

Dr. James A. Watson was called in, and found that Josephus' skull had been fractured, and that he had received internal injuries as a result of the brutal kick. It is difficult to tell if the man will survive.

SAYS BRUNO BIT HIM.

Mr. Kierchner's Charge Against Providence Hospital's Pet Dog.

A warrant was sworn out yesterday afternoon for Sister Beatrice, the Mother Superior of Providence Hospital, charging her with keeping a vicious dog. The complaint is by Benjamin P. Kierchner, a driver for the Arlington Bottling Company at Twenty-seventh and K streets. The canine in question is "Bruno," the handsome St. Bernard presented to Providence Hospital by a Baltimore man several years ago.

The dog is a most kind and affectionate animal, and the sisters have become very much attached to him. So faithful is he that he never leaves the institution, and is only seen about the yard and corridors of the building.

Several days ago Kierchner delivered a case of rings to one of the patients at the hospital, and, going to the back gate, Bruno ran out to meet him and playfully jumped upon the driver. In the scramble Kierchner was scratched or bitten, and the wound was carried by the hospital surgeons. He alleges also that he was bitten in the leg.

The warrant had not been served on Sister Beatrice last night, but it is expected that service will be had today. The sisters are very much surprised over the incident and are hopeful that Bruno's life may be spared.

NO ROCK CREEK RESERVOIR

Official Opinion Against Such Use of the Reservation.

Decision of the Attorney General Affecting the Water Supply of the Higher Northwest Section.

Attorney General McKenna has rendered an opinion to the Secretary of War which is of much interest to the citizens of the District of Columbia.

He has decided that the board of control of Rock Creek Park has no power or authority to authorize the District Commissioners to construct a reservoir on the reservation.

This opinion will, for the present, impose an obstacle in the way of the efforts of the board of control to provide a reservoir supply for what is known as the "middle section," that is, the higher parts of the city, situated in the northwest section and beyond the boundary.

This section is furnished with water at present by pumps, but there is no reserve supply, and if the pumps for any reason cease working it goes dry. To remedy this difficulty the engineer department proposed to place a reservoir on Elkhorn's road in Rock Creek Park and asked the board of control to grant them the required permission. The latter were doubtful as to their authority and the matter was referred to the Attorney General for an opinion.

In view of this opinion as rendered, the Commissioners will in all probability be obliged to ask Congress for the desired authority to place the reservoir, and until that body acts nothing can be done in the matter.

The coming of a baby into this world is a very important event of a woman's life. But this great blessing is beset with trials and dangers.

Sometimes they come so suddenly that the mother is unprepared to meet them. It gives her a sense of over-balance. This is not right nor natural.

Two-thirds of the anxiety and suffering of a woman during pregnancy is due to the fact that she is not properly prepared for the coming of the child.

Dr. F. B. Cannings, of No. 420 Humphrey St., St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I am now the happy mother of a fine healthy baby girl. I feel that your 'Favorite Prescription' has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. I took three bottles of the Prescription and the consequences were I was in labor forty-five minutes. With my first baby I suffered eighteen hours and then had to lose my life. It was very delicate and only lived twelve hours. For two years I suffered under agony, and in the meantime had two miscarriages. I cannot speak too highly for your medicine, as I feel that it has saved my child and myself. I took it through my confinement. I feel very strong and healthy and to the baby."

NEWS FROM ALEXANDRIA

he Question of Eligibility Raised Against Mr. Frank Price.

Several Cases Decided—Patent
Electrical Company Election—A Bell Recast—Personal Notes.

Alexandria, July 14.—Those who opposed the election of Mr. Frank Price, who was chosen by the city council last night as police commissioner for the second ward, have raised the question of his eligibility to hold the position, and the matter may finally be referred to the corporation attorney for an opinion. Mr. Price is employed in the Washington navy yard, and the code of Virginia provides that no person who holds any office of profit or emolument under the United States Government, or who receives any emolument whatever under such Government, can hold any office under the commonwealth of Virginia or under any county or town thereof. The question referred to has never been presented in any court, except in the case of a United States deputy collector of the port of Norfolk, who was elected to the position of justice of the peace, both of which were positions of emolument, and in which the court held that the law was applicable. A prominent attorney, who examined the law of the subject today, stated that he considered it doubtful that the law referred to did not apply to the case of the recently elected police commissioner, and also that the section referred to in the code was in violation of the State constitution.

Judge Norton, in the corporation court today, reversed his decision rendered on Monday in the case of William F. Webster against William B. Smoot and others, and the plaintiff was granted leave to amend his declaration. The case will probably be heard at the present time of the court.
